The authors thank the three anonymous reviewers for their constructive comments on an earlier draft of the manuscript. It is hard to disagree: although there are no doubt many other reasons why the research community should be interested in the topic of the present study, the fact that the research community is interested in the topic is a strong motivation for the present study.

Figure 1. A summary of the study design and the primary outcome measures. The primary outcome measures were the proportion of patients who were able to walk independently at 12 weeks and the proportion of patients who were able to walk independently at 24 weeks.
