A vertical strip of a document page. It features a circular stamp in the center, which appears to contain the word "RECEIVED" or similar, though the text is heavily obscured by noise. The background of the strip shows a grid pattern, likely from a ledger or form. The entire strip is covered in heavy black and white noise, characteristic of a corrupted scan.

The first of these is the musical staff, which is a horizontal line with a series of vertical lines (staves) extending from it. The staves are arranged in a grid-like pattern, with each staff containing a series of notes and rests. The notes are represented by small circles (dots) and the rests by horizontal lines. The staves are numbered 1 through 12, and the notes are numbered 1 through 12. The rests are numbered 1 through 12. The notes and rests are arranged in a way that suggests a musical sequence, with the notes and rests appearing to move from left to right across the staves.
