

This is another life update, a new 100k+ followers on Instagram and YouTube channel by now, lots of travel to different countries, although not to Tokyo/Makuhari right now, we traveled before that because the 10th Anniversary of 2011 Tohoku Earthquake & Tsunami happened there. We communicated more to Instagram users about the Japan Disaster Recovery Foundation, you can practice positive perspectives on their community. In the Japanese Translation Project, you can practice translation perspectives on their website. Communication process is maintained and I expect them to be translating to multiple cultures in the future. We are working with many different organizations in International Relations. We are involved and are open throughout the Asia, Europe and Latin America countries, representing our own perspective you believe has positive influence to society. We continue our mission on Protection of the People, at under Japan Disaster Recovery Foundation, foundation is focusing on the protection of the children in developing areas of eastern Republics Transcussion, Russia, the US, Canada, UK. Protection also in form of provision of important goods and services for them.

1. Approach with your team the following LMTB items of interest and review them in a few days.

The proportionality fair principles of justice and the rule of equality per se accomplish the same purpose as the Paretian principles of justice, namely to protect the welfare of others. The Paretian fairness principles suggest progress over freedom. Proportionality fair principles, on the other hand, suggest that the welfare of others is more important than one's own welfare.

Espresso coffee, which has the greatest sensory change among consumers due to its strong taste, has the highest sales rate. The coffee types that have the greatest sales volume are specifically those appreciated by coffee connoisseurs, such as espresso coffee, cappuccino, and latte macchiato.
