It is also true that the students have not yet been exposed to the concepts of "IP" or "TCP/IP" except as they relate to the Internet and its protocols. These topics may not be as relevant to the local area network as the concepts of local area networking itself. However, the concepts of IP and TCP/IP are important to the Internet and the Internet Protocol Suite.

On the basis of the above, it is clear that the H_2O_2 solution is a good source of hydroxyl radicals. The reaction mechanism of the hydroxyl radical formation is as follows: H_2O_2 reacts with Fe^{2+} to form Fe^{3+} and OH^\cdot . Fe^{3+} can catalyze the decomposition of H_2O_2 to produce OH^\cdot .
