Abstract—This study examined the effects of a 12-week, low-intensity, supervised walking program on the health-related quality of life (HRQL) of older adults with knee osteoarthritis (OA). The study was a randomized, controlled trial. The study group consisted of 20 older adults with knee OA who were randomly assigned to a supervised walking program. The control group consisted of 20 older adults with knee OA who were randomly assigned to a waitlist control. The study was conducted in a community-based setting. The study was approved by the Institutional Review Board of the University of Illinois at Chicago. The study was conducted from January 2008 to June 2009. The study was funded by a grant from the National Institutes of Health. The study was conducted in a community-based setting.
