1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the President of the Republic of Cuba, dated January 1, 1961. The letter is signed by John F. Kennedy and is addressed to Fidel Castro. The letter discusses the recent events in Cuba and the United States' position on the situation. It mentions the Bay of Pigs invasion and the United States' commitment to the defense of the Western Hemisphere. The letter also expresses the United States' concern for the well-being of the Cuban people and its desire for a peaceful resolution of the crisis.
