Figure 6 shows the results of the regression analysis. The model explains 70% of the variance in the dependent variable ($R^2 = .70$). The independent variables are significant at the conventional levels ($p < .05$). The standardized beta coefficients indicate that the most important predictors are the perceived effort-reward imbalance ($\beta = .48$) and the perceived social support from colleagues ($\beta = -.39$). The perceived effort-reward imbalance has a positive effect on the dependent variable, while the perceived social support from colleagues has a negative effect.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question being asked.
 2. Next, we need to gather relevant information and data.
 3. Then, we analyze the information to determine the cause of the problem.
 4. After analysis, we develop a plan or solution to address the issue.
 5. Finally, we implement the solution and monitor its effectiveness.

[illegible]

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities related to the project. It emphasizes the need for transparency and accountability in financial management.

2. The second part outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data, ensuring that the information gathered is reliable and valid. This includes both qualitative and quantitative approaches.

3. The third section details the results of the research, highlighting key findings and trends observed during the study period. It provides a clear overview of the outcomes achieved.

4. Finally, the fourth part offers conclusions based on the analysis and suggests potential areas for future research or improvement. It also addresses any limitations encountered during the process.
