1. QUESTION What is the purpose of the "Cell Lineage" column in the "Cell Lineage" table?
 2. ANSWER The "Cell Lineage" column in the "Cell Lineage" table is used to track the lineage of cells in a population. It is a string of characters that represents the lineage of a cell, starting from the root cell and branching out to the current cell. The lineage is represented by a sequence of characters, where each character represents a cell in the lineage. The root cell is represented by the character "1", and the current cell is represented by the character "N". The lineage is represented by a sequence of characters, where each character represents a cell in the lineage. The root cell is represented by the character "1", and the current cell is represented by the character "N".
